The screenshot shows the IBM Cloud Dashboard. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the IBM Cloud logo, a search bar, and links for Catalog, Manage, and the user's account (Durga Sri R's Account). The main section is titled "Dashboard" and includes a "Create resource" button. Below this, there's a "For you" section with several tiles: "Build" (Explore IBM Cloud with this selection of easy starter tutorials and services), "Explore IBM Cloud Shell" (Try a command-driven approach for creating, developing, and deploying a web project), "Visit the IBM Cloud catalog" (Explore our unique product catalog that contains 190+ services and software for your business solutions), "Build a web app with Watson Speech to Text" (Deploy a conversational interface compatible with any application, device, or channel), "Get Started with Watson Studio" (Get started with using AI and Cloud Object Storage in 15 minutes), and "Build a Cloud" (Upgrade to create protect Cloud). Each tile has a "Getting started" button and a time estimate. At the bottom, there are sections for "User access" (Manage users), "News" (IBM Cloud Data Shield Deprecation, IBM Watson Orchestrate Is Integrating with ThisWay Global), and "Planned maintenance" (Activate Windows, Go to Settings to activate Windows).

The screenshot shows the Node-RED on IBM Cloud landing page. The header is "Node-RED on IBM Cloud". The main section features the Node-RED logo and the tagline "Flow-based programming for the Internet of Things". Below this, there's a description: "Node-RED is a programming tool for wiring together hardware devices, APIs and online services in new and interesting ways. This instance is running as an IBM Cloud application, giving it access to the wide range of services available on the platform. More information about Node-RED, including documentation, can be found at nodered.org." A prominent button says "Go to your Node-RED flow editor". Below the button, there's a link "Learn how to customise Node-RED". At the bottom right, there's a "Activate Windows" notification: "Activate Windows. Go to Settings to activate Windows."
